“Pulse on America” show to feature
SaveMeFromForeclosure.com
-- Foreclosure prevention service to save one’s home --

November 30, 2006, Deerfield Beach, FL – PTG Studios is pleased to announce the selection of SaveMeFromForeclosure.com for its innovative, educational television series, Pulse on America. The company will be featured in a segment on “Avoiding Home Foreclosure” as part of a series on Family Finance.

One of the most ominous situations that can happen to any American family is when, because of a life circumstance (losing a job, health emergency, family problem, etc.), one can no longer pay the mortgage. Owning a home is the foundation of the “American dream” and a basic need in America; one’s pride is often based on maintaining a residence, and it protects the safety and privacy of one’s family.

Now there is somewhere to turn: SaveMeFromForeclosure.com specializes in helping clients who have fallen behind on their mortgage payments or are facing foreclosure. Originally launched in 2004, the family-owned and -operated company has grown into an international firm with local representatives throughout the United States and Canada.

SaveMeFromForeclosure.com lays out homeowners' options in two main categories: “helping the homeowner keep their home” or “helping the homeowner sell their home fast.” This format provides homeowners easy-to-understand solutions to saving their home and their credit. Additionally, homeowners can immediately contact their local representatives who can personally explain the pros and cons of each solution and help them determine their best course of action for stopping or avoiding the foreclosure.

“As foreclosures across the country hit all-time highs, it is important that we find ways to help individuals who find themselves in this situation. At SaveMeFromForeclosure.com, we provide homeowners options and help them choose the right solution to fit their individual needs,” said Justin Lee, CEO of SaveMeFromForeclosure.com, LLC. He continued, “No other company helping individuals facing foreclosure is providing all of these solutions under one roof. When individuals are facing foreclosure, time is not on their side. They need information quickly and assistance in making the right decision on what to do to halt a foreclosure. Understanding the positives and negatives of each potential solution is a key differentiator that SaveMeFromForeclosure.com provides its clients.”

Additionally, SaveMeFromForeclosure.com offers direct access via their new website to credit repair services, and they operate a daily blog that offers homeowners valuable information on foreclosures, credit repair and what they can do to prevent a foreclosure.
